Welcome to the world of ethics! This is a website that explores what ethics are, and what they are not. There are many studies that claim the ethical person leads a "better" life. Well, who defines the better life? And do those studies even hold any water? This is a website dedicated to proving that anyone can lead a "better" life if they live ethically. On this site you will be able to read interesting articles that will help you live a better life. Through life's obstacles you will be able to achieve ethical living. You will be able to make ethical decisions and be a better person. Our education system will not help us develop a real understanding of ethics and how to use them. We were taught how to think, and the truth is, we were also taught how to feel. We were not taught what to do with those feelings. We were taught to make choices that would make us happy, but we were never taught what to do when that happiness makes us do things that are immoral or illegal. Most of us grew up in a society that teaches us to have a thought and then to follow it with an action. The world of ethics is not so simple. If we were to follow the thoughts of the best person of all time, we would lead a much better life. If we were to live by the words of the most ethical man of all time, we would live a much better life. What is the ethical thing to do? That is the question. What the ethical thing is, is the question. And that is what this website will explore. This is a website for all students of ethics, for everyone who is interested in discovering what an ethical person is and how to live ethically. Who is an ethical person, and why is that person the better person of all? What does an ethical person do? Well, they do all the things that non-ethical people do, except they do them ethically, for themselves, and only for themselves. An ethical person leads a much better life, and they live a much better life, than a non-ethical person. Ethical people lead ethical lives, and ethical lives are better lives than unethical lives. And it doesn't take a genius to figure out why. This is a website for everyone. It is not just for students of ethics, but for everyone who wants to be a better person, to live a better life, to have an ethical life, an ethical love, an ethical family, an ethical 77a5ca646e
